OBJECTIVITY EXPANDS MANAGEMENT IN FINANCE AND SALES SUPPORTING CUSTOMER AND MARKET GROWTH

- Ensures the Company's Commitment to Superior Customer Satisfaction -

Sunnyvale, Calif. (April 18, 2006) - - - Addressing increased market adoption for its real-time data management solution for complex inter-related data, Objectivity, Inc., today announces the promotion of Gary Lewis from corporate controller to chief financial officer. The company also announces the promotion of Rich Shelley from sales director, east coast operations to senior sales director, worldwide sales. The expansion of the company's management team follows a year of continuing growth and profitability for Objectivity.

"Both Gary and Rich bring significant leadership and experience to our management team," states Jay Jarrell president and CEO of Objectivity, Inc. "We feel it is critical to strengthen our management team to meet the ever growing demand for our real-time and scalable 'data fusion' repository platform. This platform is ideal for mission-critical deployments with complex inter-related data."

Growth Driven by Customer Success

Objectivity's growth has been driven by the addition of high-profile customers involved in security and intelligence, process control, medical and telecommunications equipment, financial services, and knowledge management. Objectivity markets its flagship product, Objectivity/DB, to ISVs, OEMs and end-users for real-time processing of complex data, document and process management, scientific computing and complex defense and security applications.
